Due to the nature of this position, the incumbent must be available to work during emergencies and to attend a variety of after-hour meetings and training programs. EXAMPLES OF WORK (Illustrative Only): Recruits and works to retain volunteer MRC members; promotes the MRC program on the local, County, regional, State and federal level by participation in committees, public presentations, attendance at conferences, written articles, etc.; formulates annual budget and prepares grant applications; prepares and maintains a variety of reports; maintains database of all MRC members; tracks contact information, education, training, and response activities; develops and maintains ongoing communication with MRC volunteers, keeping the member informed of program activities and disseminates information using a variety of media, i.e. e-mail, fax, phone, newsletters; works with the Department of Emergency Response to ensure MRC integration into preparedness plans and response activities; coordinates all aspects of County MRC program with various governmental and nongovernmental entities such as health and human services agencies, emergency response and law enforcement agencies, Red Cross, medical facilities, FEMA and the USA Freedom Corps-Citizen Corps; plans, facilitates, and conducts ongoing educational and training programs for MRC members, organizes courses and recruits instructors, promotes courses to volunteers and the public; assists the Dutchess County Departments of Health and the Department of Emergency Response in planning and facilitating exercises and drills; assists in the development and maintenance of the Dutchess County Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan; functions as an MRC lead during an incident and within the County Emergency Operations Center; develops MRC team structure, assigning specific roles and responsibilities; ensures teams work cooperatively and in conjunction with other teams.

SUBJECT OF EXAMINATION: A test designed to evaluate knowledge, skills and/or abilities in the following areas:

Ensuring effective inter/intra agency communications

These questions test for understanding of techniques for interacting effectively with individuals and agencies, to educate and inform them about topics of concern, to clarify agency programs or policies, to negotiate conflicts or resolve complaints, and to represent one's agency or program in a manner in keeping with good public relations practices. Questions may also cover interacting with the staff of one's own agency and/or that of other agencies in cooperative efforts of public outreach or service.

Preparing written material

These questions test for the ability to present information clearly and accurately, and to organize paragraphs logically and comprehensibly. For some questions, you will be given information in two or three sentences followed by four restatements of the information. You must then choose the best version. For other questions, you will be given paragraphs with their sentences out of order. You must then choose, from four suggestions, the best order for the sentences.

Understanding and interpreting written material

These questions test for the ability to understand and interpret written material. You will be presented with brief reading passages and will be asked questions about the passages. You should base your answers to the questions only on what is presented in the passages and not on what you may happen to know about the topic.

Administrative techniques and practices

These questions test for a knowledge of management techniques and practices used in directing or assisting in directing a program component or an organizational segment. Questions cover such areas as interpreting policies, making decisions based on the context of the position in the organization, coordinating programs or projects, communicating with employees or the public, planning employee training, and researching and evaluating areas of concern.

Principles and practices of staff development and training

These questions test for the knowledge and abilities used to develop and deliver training. They address topics such as the assessment of training needs; instructional design; training methods and techniques; the use of training aids, materials, and technology; motivation; learning theory; classroom management; the evaluation of learning outcomes; and the usage of training-related data.
